What's Going on with Crypto?

Hello Dennis,

As the holiday season comes and goes, everyone could use a little extra cash. Learn a little more about how FTX users are having to deal with a little less than they expected due to the fraudulent activities of the crypto exchange they trusted so much.

Also included is an article on the difficulty of forecasting the stock market, followed of course, by one forecasting the 2023 landscape; another look at inflation as the Fed continues to hike rates, an intriguing update on nuclear fusion energy, and a little reminder that the snow we all hate to shovel isn't all bad.

Thank you,
